

MEGAN & MEGHAN

CHIEF ACTOR- First and foremost, folks, have I got a story for you: a story told by a group of dramatists with a flare for the dramatics. Believe it or not, I'm not the star of this production. I'll try and tell you in as few words as I can, but I'm a theater kid, so I love to wax poetic like Shakespeare in iambic pentameter, so please listen with your whole attention span.

CHIEF ACTOR- Here's the sitch, most Hollywood directors do this thing in every movie:

“It always takes place in L.A., dudes” they say, so it'll seem more boujie. It's always this grand story about long lost twins that travel the world, like to Syracuse or something like that. Like those Mary-Kate and Ashley movies!

Anyway, this story doesn't have Mary-Kate and Ashley. I'm going to pour out so much plot for you, it'll be like a cupful... or maybe something fuller, like a pot! A pot filled to the brim with plot! Wow, I almost sounded like Shakespeare for a second. What can I say, I am a dramatist after all.h

You know, maybe it would be easier just to explain our cast, and let you figure out the rest. There's Megan, the popular jock, and Meghan, the nerdy one. Popular Megan has this wannabe friend named Jill, who thinks if she compliments Megan enough, she'll be popular like her. But then nerdy Meghan is friends with Hadrian, who she studied away in Syracuse with. The way they talk about it makes it seem like they studied in REAL Syracuse, the one in Italy. But really, it's Syracuse, New York. I don't know why they make such a big deal out of it, though- I mean I'll be on Broadway soon enough, and that's way more cool! But anyways, popular Megan buys drugs from Elyssa, who's this weird goth person, who gets their drugs from this guy that hangs around the school, even though he definitely doesn't go here. I think his name is... Travis? No...

Trent? No.. Trevor! Trevors are always the weird ones. I think that's all of them- oh wait! There's Principal Robinson, who has such a stick up his ass. He looooves popular Megan but hates nerdy Meghan, for some reason. That's our cast!

All you need to know is that Meghan and Hadrian flew in from Syracuse the day that school started, and they're getting here a day later than everyone else. Other than that, this is a comedy of errors, so please enjoy the show. We've got all the characters you know, the popular one, the nerd, the even bigger nerd, the wannabe the goth one, the drug dealer, the theater kid, and the hardass principal. Oh look! There's our wannabe herself, Jill!
